The Club is conceived as an intimate private environment in which architecture, interior, furniture and objects form a single immersive atmosphere. The design moves between dark, reflective rooms and warm illuminated surfaces, combining vaulted gold-toned ceilings, deep timber finishes, translucent amber walls, leather upholstery and highly polished metal elements.

Rather than treating the club as a sequence of conventional rooms, SpaceLAB uses framing, reflection, glow and crafted details to create changing scenes for dining, gathering, leisure and retreat. Custom FF&E and construction detailing extend the architectural language to furniture, lighting and decorative elements, giving the 600 sq.m. project a distinct and highly controlled identity.
